Executive chef Patrick Quillec arrived in Kansas City in the summer of 1997 to chef at what was then the downtown Doubletree Hotel. In short order he left the hotel to open Hannah Bistro Cafe -- to much praise -- with former partner Brian Whittaker.

Fast forward a couple of years. Quillec has a new partner and like many high-profile chefs -- think Emeril Lagasse , Wolfgang Puck , Todd English -- Quillec has become an entrepreneur/restaurateur.

Quillec , a former instructor at the New England Culinary Institute , Burlington , Vt. , is certainly one of the most affable chefs in town. He seems to have a knack for finding young talents and coaxing them along. His challenge , now that he's not always on the premises , will be to keep the concept fresh , the food pertinent and engaging.
